Progressive Republicans in Minnesota Pledge Support for Presidency

Taft COMES IN FOR A DIG

Difficult to Tell Who Is President, Says Wisconsin Congressman

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 7.—More than 300 Progressive Republicans from all parts of Minnesota at a banquet today hailed with acclaim Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, as the logical standard bearer of "advanced Republicanism" in the next presidential campaign.

Resolutions pledging support to the Wisconsin senator "first, last and all the time," in the contest for the Republican presidential nomination were adopted. They read in part:
"Political and industrial conditions are unsatisfactory as a result of the influence of the special interests in government. This influence is maintained by controlling political parties and electing business agents instead of statesmen to public offices.
"We further approve the campaign now in progress to secure control of the next national Republican convention for the purpose of nominating candidates whose public record and personal convictions are in harmony with these principles, and we declare it to be our conviction that the ability, patriotism and record of the Hon.
Robert M. La Follette, as a lawmaker and executive makes him the leader of the progressive movement in the United States and the logical nominee of the Republican party for president at its next national convention; and "We pledge ourselves to work for his nomination and election, first, last and all the time."

Trust Companies to Merge

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Negotiations have been concluded for another great trust company merger in Wall street, this time to bring together the Equitable Trust company, with deposits of $44,000,000, and the Knickerbocker
Trust company, having deposits of $38,- 000,000. The Equitable probably will be the surviving corporation and with total deposits of $82,000,000 it will rank among the most powerful trust companies in the United States.

Findings Ardent Champion.

Senator La Follette found an ardent champion, President Taft, an avenging insurgent, in Congressman Len-root of Wisconsin. The Wisconsin congressman and Professor C. E.
Merriam, recently defeated Republican candidate for mayor of Chicago, were the principal speakers, although state Senator Ole G. Sagen of Ottumwa county, an "original La Follette man," stood in the limelight long enough to say that "A. C. Sagen, Democrat, is all probability would carry Minneapolis if Taft were renominated."

La Follette formally opened the La Follette campaign in Minnesota for the Republican presidential nomination.

STRATTON ESTATE IS SUED FOR $250,000

here for the Stratton estate, said last night that the suit is entirely new,
and that nothing is known about it.
As yet, they have received no official information that the action has been filed.

Miss Steele says that her father, who was a son of the first governor of Colorado, was associated with Stratton in various mining enterprises. Recently, in looking over her father's personal effects, she found a pencil memorandum in which Steele wrote that he was the owner of 80,000 shares of stock in the Amazon mine. According to the suit, Stratton borrowed the stock from Steele, agreeing, it is claimed, to give him 40,000 shares of Portland in return and to care for his parents. Miss Steele, it is declared by Miss Steele, was never given to her father.

Miss Steele, who is known to many residents of Colorado Springs, graduated from Colorado college in the spring of 1902. Her father died several years prior to that time and left his daughter a fortune estimated at $100,- 000. No mention of Steele was made in Stratton's will, although it is said that the millionaire "provided a home here for Steele's parents."

Almost on the heels of a threatened suit by an alleged wife of the late W. S. Stratton, who a few months ago claimed that she believed she was entitled to a part of the big estate, is another action in which Miss Bonnie Steele, well known in Colorado Springs and a Colorado college graduate in 1902, demands $250,000 from the Stratton trustees.

Bonnie Steele has filed her suit in the circuit court in Kansas City, according to press dispatches, and declares that 40,000 shares of Portland Gold Mining company stock, as well as dividends on that amount of stock since 1895, are due her. The Portland shares, it is alleged, were promised Miss Steele's father by Stratton in return for a loan of 80,000 shares of stock in the Amazon mine, in 1895. "Attor-

PHILADELPHIA HAS POLITICAL WAR ON Three Officials Forced to Quit for Not Supporting Mayor's Candidate

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The investigation into the administration of Mayor Reymann, by a commission of senators, furnished its first excitement today when Henry Clay, director of the department of public safety openly accused United States Senator Penrose and State Senator James P. McNichol of this city of having inspired the investigation in the interest of a political faction to which they belong.

A political development of the day was Mayor Reymann's announcement that he would support the candidacy of William S. Vare, for the Republican nomination for mayor, and would remove every man in his administration who did not support Vare. Later, he required the resignations of George R.
Stearns, director of the department of public works; William S. Knight, assistant director, and W. R. Benson, chief of the bureau of highways, charging them with disloyalty for failure to support Vare. These events indicate a political war such as Philadelphia has not seen in years.

Senator Penrose and Senator Mc-Nichol are strongly opposing Vare's nomination at the primary to be held September 30.

POPE HONORS COLORADOAN

PUEBLO, Sept. 7.—For the first time in the history of the Catholic church in Colorado, a member was honored with the Cross of the Order of St. Gregory, when it was conferred here today upon Captain J. J. Lambert, for many years receiver of the Pueblo Land office and former owner of the Pueblo Chieftain.

The ceremony was held at the Sacred Heart orphanage and the honor was conferred by the bishop of the diocese, the Right Rev. Nicholas C.
Matz, D. D., who was specially delegated by Pope Pius X.

The Rev. William J. Hewlett of

DEMOCRATS IN VIRGINIA

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 7.—United States Senators Thomas S. Martin and Claude A. Swanson were renominated for reelection at the Democratic primaries today for the long and short terms respectively. They won by an overwhelming majority over Representatives William A. Jones and Carter Glass.

The total vote thus far counted gives Senator Martin a plurality of 28,294

Prosecution of Three Lines
Under Sherman Antitrust
Law May Follow

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Agents of the United States government here and abroad are investigating charges brought by American merchants, it was learned today, against three steamship companies whose boats ply between here and South American ports.

Alleged discrimination in freight rates is charged, and a suit charging violation of the Sherman antitrust law may follow the completion of the investigation, according to United States District Attorney Wise.

The investigation has been quietly under way for two months, during the lines pursued by Mr. Wise prior to his filing suit last winter against the transatlantic steamship trust. The existence of an alleged agreement of pool of 34 defendants to that suit was charged in the complaint. The investigation has failed to unearth a similar document, it is said. The work of the investigators, however, has been hampered by the fact that the South American lines are foreign companies, two of them having offices in England, the third being a German enterprise. One of the chief complainants in the present investigation is Arducke Brothers, whose main offices are in New York.
This firm charges that the Hamburg and Holt line, the Prinz line and the Hamburg-American lines have discriminated against them on freight rates between Brazil and New York. The Arducke firm has occasionally "chartered a boat" independently of these companies, to bring its freight to New York, and states its opinion in the complaint that these occasions may have something to do with the alleged discrimination. The Hamburg and Holt and the Prinz lines are British companies, while the Hamburg-American line flies the German flag.

Largest Earth Dam
in World, Close to Denver, Is Opened

DENVER, Sept. 7.—The Standley Dam and Irrigation system, one of the largest in America, was opened at noon today in the presence of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson, Governor Shafer, Governor Carey of Wyoming, several prominent engineers and 500 guests from all parts of the United States.

The dam is 15 miles northwest of Denver. The guests of the company were taken to the big reservoir in a Colorado and Southern special train leaving the city at 10:30 o'clock.

A grandstand and speakers' stand had been erected and luncheon was served at a spot commanding a view of the rolling country to be irrigated and the foothills which furnish the water to 16 canals and four large lakes.

The Standley dam is the largest earth dam in the United States. The grading done on the dam is equal to 400 miles of double track standard railroad. The dam is 113 feet high.
Gatun dam at Panama is 125 feet high. The Standley dam has been thoroughly tested and showed no seepage or percolation when two-thirds full of water. Its position is such that it can furnish water to a strip of land to 20 miles wide on either side of the Platte river from Denver to Greeley.

Standley lake is 200 feet higher than Denver and higher than the country past it. The water comes down to the lake from the foothills in Clear creek, Rabbit, Green, Coal, Woman, Indian, and Leadon creeks.

Four large lakes, Standley, Barr, Marshall and Milton, comprise the main reservoirs of the Standley system. Their capacity is 200,000 acre-feet. Standley lake will hold 50,000 acre feet. Sixteen canals, embracing 335 miles of ditch, connect these lakes, carry water from the many rocks and water the vast tract of land.

The water, besides that from the chief creeks, is also delivered from the western slope by Berthoud tunnel through the Continental divide into Bard Creek and thence to Clear creek and Standley lake.

Sixty-three and one-half billion gallons of water will be stored in the four lakes when full. This water would supply 1,100 cities the size of Denver, according to the per capita estimate of 150 gallons per person.

The system has cost $6,000,000.

James W. Wilson, secretary of agriculture, was the chief speaker, and reiterated his assertions made yesterday in an address in Denver that there was entirely too much waste of water in irrigation projects at present. Secretary Wilson told his auditors that the government, in all probabilities, would undertake some means in the near future to educate the people of the west into a more intelligent conservation of water resources.

BEATTIE CASE GOES

CHESTERFIELD COURT HOUSE
Va., Sept. 7.—For five hours in a hot a pathetic plea and arguments, sought concluded and tomorrow the great bat-

LA FOLLETTE HAILED

at Washington, attended the banquet. He vouchsafed the information that Progressive Republicans would control the next Republican convention and that Minnesota would be for La Follette.

"The United States Senate for years," said Congressman Leontow, "has been looked upon as the very citadel of special privilege. In January, 1906, the people of Wisconsin sent to that body the man who has restored representative government to that state, believing that with his vigorous, promising patriotism, his deep and abiding conviction of public right and public duty, his constructive statesmanship, he could render valuable assistance to restoring representative government to the whole American people."

Having paid exalted tribute to Senator La Follette as a "constructive statesman," the speaker arraigned President Taft for alleged unfaithfulness to the people.

"Since March 4, 1909," he said, "it has been difficult to tell who was the president of the United States or where he should be placed. Elected as a Progressive Republican, President Taft chose a reactionary cabinet. Before election he condemned reactionaries and espoused the Roosevelt policies. After election he appointed Baughner and retired Garfield and Finchot. Every Progressive Republican in the senate and the house incurred his displeasure, and Aldrich and Cannon became his advisers. He then attempted to punish the Progressive Republicans in the house and senate by depriving them of all control over federal patronage. This action conclusively shows how little conception the president has of the character of the Progressive Republicans and what they are fighting for. If any Progressive Republican has been coerced by this attempt of the president, he would have been a traitor to the country."

Mr. Leontow condemned the reciprocity agreement with Canada, declaring that history would record "The attempted betrayal of 9,000,000 of our farmers to the greed of great interests."

The speaker condemned the president for signing the Payne-Aldrich tariff measure while vetoing the recent tariff measures.

Mr. Merriam did not mention the

ENDS STOMACH DISTRESS AND INDIGESTION

Belief in Five Minutes Awaits Every Man or Woman Who Suffers From a Bad Stomach.

Why not get some now—this medicine, called Diapain, cures Stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good cat, they take Diapain to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of gas or eruptions of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Diapain costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and upset stomach in five minutes.

There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one single dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.

When Diapain works, your stomach rests—gets itself in order, cleans up—and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.

Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to take a little Diapain. Tell your druggist that you want Diapain, because you want to become thoroughly cured this time. Remember, if your stomach feels out of order and uncomfortable now, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

name of Senator La Follette or refer to him indirectly as one about to be chosen to lead the progressives.

"The progressive movement," he said, "is greater than any individual and broader than any political machinery."

Likewise silent on the administration of President Taft, Mr. Merriam voted much of his time to an arraignment of "spoils" politics as he saw it exemplified in "Lorimerism" and "Jackpotism."

Mr. Merriam held that the direct primary, direct election of United States senators, the initiative, the referendum and the recall, and the corrupt practices act, are all parts of the progressive program. The initiative and referendum, he said, would help "to break up the infamous alliance between the political machines and the special privilege-seeking interests," which he declared had been the curse of American public life for the last generation.

Cummins Lauds La Follette.

DES MOINES, Sept. 7.—Characterizing Senator La Follette as a patriot with an eye single to the good of the country and as one to whom providence had given a strong mind and inflexible backbone, Senator Albert B. Cummins addressed the Iowa Tippecanoe club here tonight in what was called the opening of the 1912 campaign in Iowa. Senator Cummins' speech was devoted mainly to a discussion of the peace treaties pending before the senate and he particularly advocated the adoption of the proposed amendment which leaves to the senate and the president to determine whether any controversy is justifiable, instead of a joint commission as provided for in the treaties as drafted.

ADVISORY BODIES TALK STRIKE TODAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 7.—Heads of five international shop craft unions, with about 40 members of general advisory committees of these unions, will meet here at 9 o'clock a. m. tomorrow to determine what shall be done tomorrow for recognition of the federation of shop employees by the Harriman lines. Tomorrow's conference, it was said tonight, is for the purpose of determining the attitude and temper of the union men. The advisory committees are expected to present to the international presidents accurate and authorized statements of the opinions of the men whom they represent. Union officials refused tonight to forecast the attitude of the men.

The advisory board may recommend a strike if it sees fit, and such recommendation would have great weight, although it would not be binding.

General officers of the unions showed no desire to "talk strike" tonight, although they reiterated their assertion that the federation must be recognized.

Situation at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Immediate prospect of a strike of shop employees of the Illinois Central railroad, discussed here today, and indications were general that the strike probably would never be sanctioned by the international officers of the unions involved. The determination of matters in controversy between the system federation officers and representatives of the international unions is scheduled to commence Sunday, after a meeting of the executive union of machinists.

Members of the conference committee of international officers have indicated their disapproval of the strike, but were willing to give the committee of the federation of the Illinois Central unions permission to issue a strike order. In such case the support of the international unions, particularly in a financial way, would not be granted the federation.

The advisability of yielding responsibility to the system federation committee will be discussed further, on Sunday by the Machinists union executive board and by representatives of the other eight organizations whose locals are involved in the Illinois Central controversy.

Club Women Protest Putting of Binford Girl on the Stage

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—If the protests that are going up from prominent club women, actresses and other women well known in this city, are to be taken as a criterion of the feeling of women in general, Bessie Binford will not be heartily welcomed to the metropolitan stage as an "actress" or anything else.

When the news reached here today that the young girl who has become notorious through her connection with the Beattie murder had started north to "go on the stage," many of the leaders of women in this city protested that such an "exhibition" of Miss Binford would be "an insult to all woman-kind."

A local booking agent is credited with the statement that the Binford girl will appear at a Philadelphia theater next Monday. He said her act probably would consist of a couple of songs. Bessie Binford reached this city tonight.

"I know that everybody will think I am just jilting it on thick in going to New York right now," she said, "but the reason that I am coming here is just to get a chance to stand alone and try to be good. I don't suppose I will get any sympathy, and that will make it harder, but it's true, just the same."

SECY. FISHER AT SEATTLE

SEATTLE, Sept. 7.—Secretary of the Interior, Walter Fisher, who departed for Seattle, August 8, on a tour of Alaska, arrived here today on the regular cutter Tahome. Secretary Fisher's trip included journeys over the whole mileage of the three railroads of Alaska, the government wagon roads and a river voyage on the Yukon. He was accompanied by the Berling river coal fields and talked with every one he met who had suggestions to offer on the policy of the interior department.

Mr. Fisher said today that he did not wish to make a statement of his conclusions as to betterment of conditions in Alaska. In conversations in Alaska and on the steamer, however, the secretary declared himself in favor of wagon road construction, aids to agriculture and the expediting of settlement of titles to coal claims. It is known that he favors hastening the trials of the men indicted in Detroit, Chicago, Spokane and Tacoma for alleged coal frauds, also an immediate investigation of companies selling the stock of projected railroads.

Mr. Fisher expressed disappointment with the Bering river coal measures. The coal, he said, seemed much broken up, and where exposed to the air crumbled at the touch. Controller Bay did not impress the secretary as offering the harbor facilities that had been represented.

Mr. Fisher will be the guest of the Commercial club at a banquet tomorrow night, and will leave late at night for Ellensburg and North Yakima, Wash., where he will look into irrigation projects.

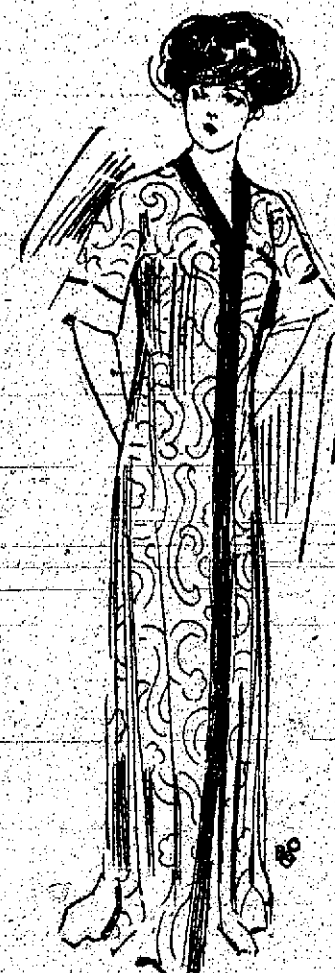

ELECTRIC RAILROAD TO TOP OF THE ROYAL GORGE

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 7.—The city council has granted a 25-year franchise to Frederick B. Street and F. S. Kelsey, of New York, for use of the streets for an electric car line from the railroad station to the top of the Royal Gorge, about 10 miles, to cost about $400,000. The franchise says work must be begun within nine months and be completed and the line in operation within two years, otherwise the grantees must forfeit to the city whatever outlay they may have made. A bond of $10,000 is required.

Street and Kelsey say they will begin construction within 90 days if possible and have the line in operation for the tourist travel next year.

BATTLESHIPS IN DRYDOCK

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 7.—The battleships Mississippi, Maine and Missouri today arrived at the Philadelphia navy yard from the southern drill waters and will be placed in drydock for an overhauling. The battleships will remain here until October, when they will sail to join the Atlantic fleet.

ARBITRATE DIFFERENCES

WINNIPEG, Sept. 7.—The Grand Trunk Pacific railway and the company's machinists and boiler-makers today decided to submit their differences to the conciliation board appointed by the department of labor at Ottawa.

The men demand the same wage and hour schedule as prevails on the Canadian Pacific and Canadian Northern railways.

People in it—a man and a woman. They were both sitting in the front seat. They were quarrelling. I could hear them talking loud, so I did not show myself, but waited behind a tree about 10 feet from the edge of the road in the thick pine woods to hear what they said.

Woman Pleaded With Man.

"The woman was pleading with the man. She was saying that she wanted her love back again and she did not want the man to be cruel to her. The man answered roughly.

"At one time I heard him say I am tired of all this, I am going to end this. Then I heard the woman say, 'How are you going to end it?' The man said something I could not hear and then I heard him say, 'I'll show you I'm going to end it.' He got out of the machine and walked across to the opposite side of the road from where I was and then after he had been there a minute he came back with something in his hands. I could not see what it was in the dark. The woman was standing in the machine in front of the left hand seat in the front part of the automobile when the man came back.

"Just when the man came back I heard the woman scream once. Then the man, who was standing in the road, swung what he had in his hand and hit the woman on the right side of the face. She fell from the machine to the road and she did not make a sound.

"For a minute the man stood looking at her and then I heard him say 'Damn you, you're not dead yet. I'll fix you.' Then he up with a gun which was what he had hit the woman with and he shot her where she lay in the road by the front seat of the automobile. I did not see where he shot her. I saw him throw the gun somewhere and begin to lift his wife's body in the front seat of the automobile and I came out from the tree.

Slayer Discovers Ear-Hand.

"The man turned around and saw me and he said to me, 'Did you see this?'

"I told him yes, I had seen it.

"Then you, what the hell are you going to do about it?" he said. I didn't say anything. Then he began to threaten me. He said he was rich and had lots of friends in Richmond and if I told on him he would have me killed somehow. He said nobody would believe my story if I appeared in court against him any way and I had better get out. He said he would give me some money and a suit of clothes if I would go away.

"I told the man I would go away. Then he told me to come to Beattie's store the next day and there would be some money for me. I went and he got some money and bought a suit of clothes. I stayed in South Richmond for two days then but I was so scared and got nervous after the two days I took the train to this place."

Judge Watson expected immediately on the convening of court and the delivery of the instructions to the jury to ask for an agreement as to the time to be used by each side for argument.

L. M. Gregory was to open the case for the prosecution, to be followed by Attorney Harry M. Smith, Jr., and Bill Carter for the defense. L. O. Wendenburg, who has voluntarily assisted Prosecutor Gregory in the case will close for the commonwealth. Incidentally Gregory today is up for re-nomination for commonwealth attorney in this county, and Wendenburg in Henrico county is a candidate for the state senate. Neither has been able to devote any time to the campaign on account of the trial.

Beulah and Paul Sign Up.

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 7.—Beulah Binford and Paul Beattie, detained as witnesses for the commonwealth in the Henry Clay Beattie, Jr. murder case, were today released from the Henrico county jail.

Beulah Binford signed a contract to pose for a moving picture company, and left for New York, shortly after her release.

Paul announced that after a month's rest he, too, will go to New York to accept a vaudeville engagement which he "is too poor to refuse."

"NO SERVICE, NO MONEY," IS COMMISSION RULING

CINCINNATI, Sept. 7.—The national baseball commission today announced officially, for the first time, the wording of the rule relating to the reimbursement of a club which purchases a player who dies before reporting. It follows:

"It is agreed, that in the event of the death or permanent incapacity of a player, prior to his reporting to the party of the second part and giving it actual service in the training or championship season, this agreement shall be null and void and the party of the first part binds itself to forthwith return to the party of the second part all or any of the consideration received for him, whether it be in money or the release of one or more players and to absolve said party of the second part from all obligations for payments that have not matured."

WINS NEW CHAMPIONSHIP

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—News of the winning of a new championship pugilistic title and of a record in its twice being defended the same day it was won, was brought to port tonight by the steamship Mauretania. The new title is called the "lightweight championship of the Atlantic ocean."

It was won Wednesday at sea, off Nantucket, by Dyer, a steward of the steamer, from Pierce, a sailor. The bout was for 12 rounds, and was won on points. Dyer is said once to have been lightweight champion of Australia. The ring was pitched on deck and the men fought under Marquis of Queensbury rules.

LOSES MEMORY OF EARLY EVENTS THROUGH ACCIDENT

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7.—Physicians at a local hospital are puzzled by the case of Samuel Bellman, 7 years old, whose memory has been strangely affected as a result of his having been struck by a motor car last Saturday. The boy today was unable to recognize his parents, although his mind is clear as to events that occurred after he went to the hospital. Of his life previous to the accident he can recall nothing.

MEN WITH A "MONA LISA" ARE ARRESTED IN SPAIN

MADRID, Sept. 7.—The newspaper Espana Libre says that two foreigners have been arrested at Leon, and that they were carrying a basket containing a "Mona Lisa." The men protested against their detention, asserting that the picture was only a copy of the stolen masterpiece, which they were taking to Colombia, where they reside. The authorities apparently have no further details of the report.

A press dispatch from Leon says the two men were observed taking baggage from an automobile at the door of an inn on the outskirts of the city. A large picture attracted the attention of the observer, who peering through an opening in the covering thought he recognized the painting "Mona Lisa." He immediately informed the authorities who lost no time in arresting the men and seizing the picture.

The detained persons gave the name of Henri Barbusse and Letellier. The police refuse all information.

questions affecting our vital interests, independence or honor. He continues Senate Performed a Duty.

The proposed arbitration treaty is defective in the first place because it is not straightforward. It is a matter that all justifiable matter shall be arbitrated. The language both of the opponents and the defenders of the treaty shows that even among our own people and before a cause for applying the treaty has arisen there is hopeless confusion as to what "justifiable" means. Such being the case, it can be imagined how useless would be the effort to define "justifiable" when a serious conflict had actually arisen and blood was up and passion high. The wording of the treaty is so loose, it is so lacking in definiteness, as to allow one set of its advocates to make one set of bluffs to arbitrate everything and another set to say that under it we would not have to arbitrate anything we did not wish to. Now, no moral movement is permanently helped by hypocrisy. During the proposal in the house, if entered into with various nations, bind us to arbitrate the Monroe doctrine, the Platt Amendment with Cuba the payment of state bonds to European bondholders, the question whether various European countries are entitled to the same concessions that Canada is to receive under the reciprocity agreement, the right of other foreign nations to interfere in Panama, our own right to exclude any immigrants whom we choose to exclude? If these questions arose I am sure representatives would privately or publicly inform foreign powers (and indeed would have to inform foreign powers) that the American people would never abide by an agreement to arbitrate them in which case the only proper course to follow is that followed by the senate committee and to say in honest fashion that there are certain questions which this nation will not arbitrate at the dictation of any outside body. Critics of the senate in this matter talk as if it had usurped a "right," in reality the senate merely performed a duty.

A Fatally Objectionable Feature.

Most men of knowledge who are willing to think, know perfectly well that this country would not as a matter of fact keep an agreement to arbitrate all questions of vital honor and interest, even though it were so unwise as to make it, and it is a wicked thing to put us in a position of promise that we will not, and then to be formed. In such a matter the indulgence of false pretense in the present would with an absolute certainty be followed by the breaking of faith in the future.

The fatally objectionable feature of the proposed treaty is the clause providing that the joint committee of the two countries, which may be composed exclusively of foreigners, may by unanimous vote, or by vote of all but one of its members, determine that any given question might be arbitrated. It is difficult to characterize this provision truthfully without seeming to be offensive. Merely to speak of it as silly comes far short of saying what should be said. It is arguable that in certain cases neither of the two countries, the president or the senate should delegate to the other for certain purposes, the power of exclusive action.

But no sound argument can be made for permitting both the president and the senate to delegate to outsiders possibly to foreigners, the exercise of a fundamental and vital power. The details of carrying into effect a great and far-reaching policy can appropriately be delegated; but the elected servants of the people betray the interests of the people if they mark the duty of themselves deciding what that policy shall be.

Indicates Weakness.

It would be quite proper to delegate to the joint high commission many subordinate functions, but the high, the supreme function of deciding whether a question is of such vital importance to the country that it is or is not arbitrable cannot with propriety be delegated to any outsider by either the president or the senate. They are elected to perform exactly the vital duties implied in such decision. If the president after consulting with his constitutional advisers, the senate, could not make up his own mind about such a vital question and had to have it made up for him by outsiders—possibly foreigners and certainly not responsible to the people—it would be proof positive that he was not fit to hold the exalted position to which he had been elected. A president unfit to make such a decision himself and willing to have somebody else make it for him would also be unfit to perform any of the really important duties of the presidency.

We, the people of the United States, cannot and will not surrender to outsiders the power to determine whether or not we are fit to decide for ourselves what are our vital needs, and what are the policies proper for meeting these needs. In other words, Lincoln said does not intend to wrong anyone, but neither does he intend to bind himself, if his pocket is picked, his house burglarized or his face slapped to "arbitrate" with the wrongdoers and as long as he does not intend so to bind himself, he will not be an offensive hypocrite for him to say that he will so bind himself.

Be Scrupulously Just.

It is our duty, so far as now possible, so far as human nature in the present day world will permit to try to provide peaceful substitutes for war as a method for the settlement of international disputes. But progress in this direction is merely hindered by the folly that believes in putting peace above righteousness, while it is of course even worse to pretend so to believe. The greatest service this nation can render to righteousness is to behave with scrupulous justice to other nations, and yet to keep ready to hold its own if necessary. Our chief usefulness to humanity rests in our combining power with high purpose. Power undirected by high purpose spells calamity; and high purpose by itself is utterly useless if the power to put it into effect is lacking. In the history of our country the peace advocates who treat peace as more than righteousness will never be and never have been of service either to it or to mankind. The true lovers of peace, the

Thousands Hear Taft's Plea for Peace Treaties

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 7.—To a Connecticut audience of 50,000 persons, gathered on the home stretch of Charter Oak race track, President Taft today spoke on arbitration. It was an audience drawn from the hill and valley towns of an agricultural region. President Taft was the guest of both the State and the Connecticut fair associations and his address followed a state luncheon in the new memorial hall on Capitol hill. At the race track, a rope held back the people, but the president insisted that the barrier be taken down. Then the people rushed forward within sound of his voice. Two presidents was in excellent voice. Time again his plea for an arbitral court among the great nations of the world was applauded. At the close the president returned to his motor car and was whisked into the city, leaving for Boston at 5 o'clock. President Taft is such a familiar figure in Connecticut that he spoke today like one renewing old acquaintances. He dealt almost exclusively with the legal technicalities of the arbitration treaties with England and France which now await the approval of the American senate. Perhaps the most significant part of his address was as follows:

Cannot See the Distinction. "The majority of the senate committee on foreign relations say they cannot consent that somebody else shall decide for them whether a question arising in the future is within the provisions of the first article of this treaty, that for them to do so is to delegate their power to another tribunal and is to bind themselves by an obligation which they have no power to assume."

"It is the view of the minority, however, and with that view I am earnestly in accord, that the issue whether a future difference shall be within the terms of the description of article 1 of the treaty is an international question arising out of a construction of the treaty under a claim of right by one of the parties to an arbitration and is a question, therefore, that the president and senate, acting as a treaty-making power have the right to agree by treaty to submit to a tribunal for final judgment."

"In what different way is the treaty-making power invoked when we ask the senate to concur in a treaty which agrees to submit all justiciable differences to arbitration and when it is asked to agree to submit to arbitration the question whether a difference arising is justiciable or not under the treaty? I confess that I cannot see the distinction. Norway and Sweden have made an agreement to settle all differences except those of vital interest and national honor by submission to The Hague tribunal and they have further agreed that when they differ as to whether the controversy arising is arbitrable under the treaty or is within the exception to submit that question to the board of arbitration for its final discretion."

One of Broadest Powers. "Now if I understand the attitude of the majority of the senate committee it is that they have no power and therefore the government has no power to enter into a treaty from which we shall submit to the third person constituting an independent tribunal the question where we are bound under a treaty to abide the judgment of the tribunal as to particular issues."

The treaty-making power under the constitution, it has been decided by the supreme court, hardly knows definition of law. It is one of the broadest powers conferred by the constitution and it is conferred on the executive and the senate. Certainly it is not in the interest of the cause of peace that that power should be limited in such a way that other governments may make treaties of this kind and we may not."

The ideal toward which we are all working with these treaties, is the ultimate establishment of an arbitral court to which we shall submit our international controversies with the same freedom and the same dependence on the judgment as in case of domestic courts. If the senate cannot bind itself to submit questions of jurisdiction arising under the treaty as Norway and Sweden have done, for instance, then the prospect of real and

Letter in Eastern Newspaper Praises Union Printers Home

"What a great and glorious privilege for any man to contribute toward the support and maintenance of such a magnificent institution."

So speaks William Stuart, regarding the Union Printers home here, in a recent article in a paper published in his home town, Chambersburg, Pa. While playing at the Majestic theater this summer, he was a guest of R. M. Carlisle of the Brown Lumber company, 1225 North Nevada avenue, knowing that he was coming to this city, a number of friends in Pennsylvania asked him to visit the Printers home, and advised him to report to them if "they, as printers, were getting the worth of their money in helping support the institution." The article in the Chambersburg paper, including Mr. Stuart's letter, reads:

The Article.

That the value of the benevolent features of the International Typographical union is apparent to those outside the membership of that organization, is shown by a communication received by a member of Philadelphia union No. 2. The writer is William Stuart, a well-known actor, who is on a coast-to-coast tour in Vaudeville. Mr. Stuart's itinerary included Colorado Springs, and the Printers home and all that it stood for so impressed him that he was impelled to give expression to his admiration for the institution and its aims, and the results achieved. The letter follows:

"I consider Colorado Springs the ideal spot on earth, and, to my mind, the Union Printers home occupies the ideal spot in Colorado Springs. Situated in the Nob Hill district, it can be seen from almost any point. The view from the home in any direction is beautiful, indeed beautiful, but looking toward majestic Pikes Peak it cannot be adequately described. It must be seen. I have just made my first visit to the home. The visiting hours are from 9 to 11 o'clock each morning. The first thing to especially attract one's attention upon arrival at the home is the magnificent stone gateway at the entrance to the grounds. The arch contains this inscription in gold letters: 'Union Printers Home. Erected and maintained by the International Typographical Union, A. D. 1891.' A spacious walk and driveway leads to the main building, and the beautiful lawns and artistic floral display spread out on either side and cause one to stop and gaze in rapture and wonderment."

Cared for by Residents.

"It might be interesting to know that the grounds are cultivated and cared for almost entirely by residents of the home. The home of Superintendent Deacon and his family is situated to the left of the main building, and the hospital to the right. Entering the lobby of the main building, I was received most graciously by an attendant, and after registering, started on a tour of the home in the company of a guide, who has been a resident of the home for 18 years. We first visited the reception room, to the right of the entrance. This room has an atmosphere of welcome and readiness, and I experienced quite a feeling of pride upon being informed that the room had been furnished by No. 185 of Bradford, Pa., my native state. Upon the walls of the room hang a group picture of the members of No. 185, and another of their Ladies auxiliary. In this room is also a very beautiful Victrola, with more than 200 records, presented to the home by the Printers League of America. Further down the hall is the Redwood room, furnished by San Francisco No. 21."

"Directly opposite is the Jefferson Davis Memorial room, furnished by Mrs. J. A. Hayes, in memory of her illustrious father. A portrait of the former president of the United States adorns the walls. At the other end of the hall is the large room in which the board of trustees meets annually. Among the many interesting mementos in this room is a pen-and-ink sketch of George W. Childs, with this beautiful inscription: 'The only proof that you are above other men is the hand reached down to help them.'

Assembly Hall.

"Opposite is Assembly hall, which is used as a smoking and lounge room. The only decoration in this hall is a life-size oil painting of Mr. Childs, presented by himself at the dedication of the home, May 12, 1892. Next is a large room containing more than 10,000 volumes, including the Ames Cummings collection of 3,000, presented by his widow. The most interesting collection in the library is the Swigart collection of autographed volumes. Owing to my limited time, I was unable to look over many of these books as I wished, but one from Mark Twain, dated January, 1906, contains this autographed inscription from that beloved American: 'Let us save the tomorrow for work.' In the center of the library is an immense rack, containing all the principal papers from all of the principal cities. On one side are the papers from east of Chicago, and on the other, the ones from west of the Windy City. Outside of the library is a commodious sun parlor, which is used by the residents as a smoking and lounge room in disagreeable weather. With the exception of the superintendent's office and the other rooms on the first floor are occupied by aged, infirm and crippled residents. On the second floor I was shown the room furnished by Chicago, No. 16. It is now occupied by two members of that local, including O. E. Williams, who has been a resident of the home for 13 years, and has carried all of the mail, valuable packages and money to and from the home for as many years."

Room Furnished by Denver.

"The room furnished by Denver, No. 40, is the most pretentious in the home, and is certainly an honor to that local. All of the other rooms are furnished in a most comfortable and sanitary manner, but as I looked at these rooms so beautifully furnished by Bradford, Denver, Chicago and San Francisco, I could not help but wonder why there were not others. I spent a few moments looking over the beautiful garden, which supplies so many of the good things for the home table. This excellent feature of the home shows the same careful attention seen on all sides. The dairy farm is a model and modern in every way. The cows are all of the finest Holstein breed, and at present there are 13 young Holsteins for sale. (This is not an ad.) I next visited the stables, engine and boiler rooms, laundry, kitchen, bakery and refrigerator plant, each of which is as near perfect as is possible to make them. Cleanliness and absolute order prevail upon all sides. I was especially interested in the tuberculous patients in the first stage. These tents are of the very latest type and are the only ones in this country that are heated by steam and lighted by electricity."

"The population of the home at the present time is about 150, one-third of which are in the hospital ward. I regretted exceedingly that I did not have the pleasure of meeting Mr. Deacon, but he was in town on business for the home during my most delightful visit."

"As I passed out of the grounds, I read this inscription in gold letters on the side of the arched entrance: 'It is better to be uncharitable than to be charity without price.'

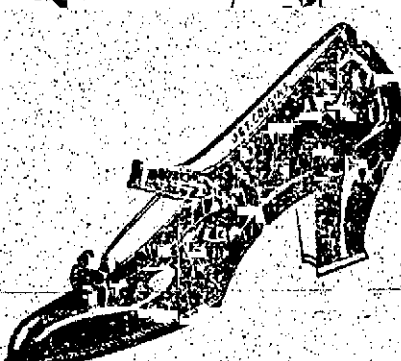

"I passed a few moments and reflected. What a great and glorious privilege for any man to contribute toward the support and maintenance of such a magnificent institution!"

COMES TO RAISE CHICKENS BUT FALLS VICTIM TO CUPID

GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 7.—When Miss Edith Wheeler, a charming English girl, came here a few months ago and engaged in the chicken business, she had no idea that her poultry yards were to be the scene of a pretty romance which would lead her and Eugene Gordon, son of Prof. T. G. Gordon, to the altar. They went to Denver last night and were married there.

There were in Argentina at the close of 1910 approximately 16,875 miles of railways as compared with 14,241 miles in 1909. It is estimated that the length of the Argentine railways in 1911 will be 18,560 miles.

substantial progress is most discouraging.

"I call your attention to the unfortunate consequences not only to ourselves but to the whole civilized world, not only for today but for ages to come. If the final adoption of this reasoning by the senate committee is to prevail, steadily throughout the world the burden of the creation of families and fleets has grown heavier and heavier, steadily the competition has grown more fierce and is crushing the life and the hopes of the peoples."

Turn First to United States.

"But steadily, too, and of late even more rapidly has grown the hope that an escape from these burdens may be found; that in some measure, at least, the peaceful methods of settling disputes among individual men may obtain among the nations."

"Now, wherever good men and women the world over are longing and praying for the dawn of this great day of peace, their eyes turned first with hope and confidence to the great republic of the west, to the land whose ideals are of peace and justice, industry and freedom, to the land which more than any other has used the peaceful method of arbitration for the settlement of its differences with other nations. In this great movement we are the hope of the world."

"To the men and women who are struggling and longing are we to say: 'Look not to us for leadership. We cannot even follow. Let other nations arbitrate. Let others even set up a high court of nations and pledge their faith that they will resort no more to the dread arbitrament of war, but will abide by the verdict of their chosen judges. The great American nation is unable by its constitution to help the great movement, unable to bind itself to any future broad submission of its case to an arbitral court though the whole world follows this light of civilization and peace.'

"For, remember, if the senate cannot bind us to abide the judgment of an arbitral court as to whether a question is justiciable it can never bind us, and if the senate cannot bind us the nation cannot bind us and this peace-loving people is forever incapable of taking a step along the great path which all the world wishes to tread and along which all the world thinks America best fitted to lead."

DISORDERS AT VERA CRUZ WITH ARRIVAL OF MADERO

VERA CRUZ, Mex., Sept. 7.—Francisco I. Madero, the candidate of the progressive party for president was the victim of a mob on his arrival here last night, being crowded and jostled until made thoroughly angry. Not all were his friends since stones were thrown and several members of the crowd received injuries. Guarded by the police, Senor Madero made an effort to walk from the train with dignity. The crowd, however, surged about him and pushed him along with such a mad rush that he lost both dignity and temper.

The progressive nominee was literally tossed into his automobile. Men and boys crowded on the footboard and springs and even clambered on the roof of the car.

Slow progress was made through the streets, and many persons were thrown down and trampled on. When the automobile finally reached its destination Senor Madero complied with the demands for a speech. He reminded his hearers that it was he

THOROUGHBREDS SELL FOR A SONG IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—The horse is not so valuable an asset as in the days when the metropolitan tracks here were running and a few horses were not in force, judging developments at the Sheephead track today, when Sam Hildreth deavored to auction off his string of good campaigners.

Four horses were knocked down what Hildreth declares were "miserable sums," and he ended the sale for with and announced that he would take the stable to England and dispose of it. The animals sold to and the prices they brought were: 1. King, $2,500; Hampton Court, $2,000; Royal Meteor, $1,800; and Restigou, $1,600.

Among those withdrawn from block were Fitzherbert, King of Novelties, Montgomery, Joe Mad Firestone, Dinah Ken and Zeus. Death was almost fearful as he horses bid in for prices that may have been doubled or even tripled, the race tracks flying their banner of yore.

NAME DEPOSITORY FOR DENVER POSTAL BANK

DENVER, Sept. 7.—The Denver national bank has been named a depository of the postal savings bank of the local postoffice. The postal savings bank will open Saturday morning at the postoffice. Carnival Scenes Will Be Depicted on Moving Picture Screens Soon

It is expected that the moving picture films of the Colorado Springs summer carnival will be completed and their first distribution made within a month. In this city the pictures will be shown by Carl M. Balcomb, the moving picture company itself will exhibit them in the other cities of the world.

Through the carnival pictures and the articles concerning Colorado Springs, which are being prepared by Secretary Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce this city is obtaining exceedingly valuable advertising throughout the entire country. Mr. Henderson has written feature stories about Colorado Springs at the request of "City Progress," a Wisconsin magazine, the Birmingham Ledger, Christian Science Monitor of Boston and other magazines of national circulation.

Annual Meeting County Pioneer Assn. Tuesday

The annual meeting and picnic of the El Paso County Pioneer association will be held next Tuesday in North Cheyenne canyon at the point where the Indians were encamped during the carnival. Mrs. Maude McFerran Price, president of the association, will preside during the business meeting, beginning at 11 a. m. The remainder of the day will be devoted to the picnic. It is requested that all attending take their own luncheon. Hot coffee will be furnished by the association.

BLIND SCHOOL OPENS

Gathering pupils from all over the Rocky Mountain region, the Colorado School for the Deaf and Blind opened yesterday morning with an enrollment of nearly 120. It is expected that a score more of last year's pupils who have not yet entered will return within a week or so. Since the close of the last term the buildings of the college have been rendered as sanitary as possible.

PLANS FOR Y. M. C. A. BOYS

Harry Franks, director of the Boys department at the Y. M. C. A., plans a number of new features to interest the younger members of the association, and tomorrow there will be a bicycle trip to Green Mountain Falls and return. The riders will leave the Y. M. C. A. building at 8:30 o'clock in the morning. A number of walking trips and tennis matches are also planned.

It is probable that the college observatory will be opened to the public.

EXPECT FURTHER ADVANCE

Local merchants expect a further rise in the price of sugar, which is now retailing at 12 or 13 pounds for a dollar, according to whether cane or beet sugar is bought. The merchants believe that there is a chance for a reduction in price after January 1, dependent upon the Cuban supply due at that time.

Oklahoma to Have 1,000 Feet of Floor Space

Word has been received that the Oklahoma Agriculture school will send a delegation, with exhibits for the Dry Farming congress. Officials in charge of the exposition announced yesterday that 1,000 feet of floor space has been reserved for the Oklahoma demonstration. It is understood that notwithstanding the prolonged drought suffered by Oklahoma this summer, the agricultural school will have an unusually interesting exhibit.

Both Deny That They Are More Than Friends

Mrs. Sophie Blood Johnson whose husband, Dr. Harry McCordell Johnson, a prominent physician of St. Louis, has filed suit for divorce in that city, as announced in The Gazette yesterday, left last night for the Missouri town. She refused to talk concerning the divorce suit and her relations with Eugene Benoist, named as correspondent, except to deny that Benoist and she are more than friends. Her first intimation of the divorce suit, she said, was contained in The Gazette article yesterday.

Benoist, who also comes from a prominent St. Louis family, is employed at the station of the Colorado Springs Light, Heat and Power company. He also denies that he and Mrs. Johnson are more than friends, and says that he will see an attorney and try to have his name withdrawn from the suit. When asked if he would marry Mrs. Johnson if she were divorced, he replied in the negative. "We are simply good friends," he said.

Mrs. Stephen J. Misch of Providence, R. I., who has been here for a few days en route home from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, went to Denver yesterday.

Mrs. R. P. Victor, son and mother, Mrs. George Fechter, are visiting relatives in St. Louis, Mo., and Jacksonville, Fla.

mittie that has in charge the distribution of $50,000 voted by the last legislature. Platt Rogers of Denver, H. A. Dubbs of Pueblo, John T. Barnett of Denver, Clyde C. Dawson of Denver, Charles T. Greely and Miles Saunders of Pueblo are to receive for their services in defending the state's water rights, $5,000 each. This is a goodly sum. Attorney General Griffith and Senator Burris of the committee voted against the action of the majority. Mr. Griffith states that he does not object to the personnel of the staff employed, but he does not believe in spending so much money at this time.

WELL-KNOWN CHICAGO ARCHITECT IS SHOT
CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Robert Bruce Watson, one of the best known young architects and contractors in Chicago, was shot in the head and in the right thigh by a mysterious woman in front of his residence today. Watson was taken to a hospital. The woman was arrested.

At the police station the woman gave her name as Mrs. H. B. Conroy and admitted that she fired the shot, declining, however, to give a reason for the act. She is 35 years of age and has been living at a well-known downtown hotel.

Watson has been city architect and state architect.

Watson was shot twice. Once over the right eye and in the right thigh. His condition is said to be serious. He refused to talk about the shooting when questioned by the police. Mrs. Conroy attempted to escape after shooting Watson.

"I shot him and that is all I will say," the woman exclaimed when taken in custody. At her hotel it was learned she came to Chicago from Reno, Nevada, last December. Employees said Watson never visited her so far as they knew.

UNCERTAINTY WILL NOT AFFECT COLLEGE OPENING
GREELEY, Colo., Sept. 7.—Dr. Snyder says the State Teachers college will open Tuesday and that no change will be made in the policy of the institution, because of the doubt about the state paying the usual expenses. The largest enrollment in the history of the college is that of this term and Dr. Snyder says the board looks to the state treasurer to pay all moneys appropriated for the college, as the board will make no reduction in the faculty or necessary expenses until compelled to do so.

TA-I UNPOPULAR WITH FARMERS OF MINNESOTA
ST. PAUL, Sept. 7.—The Farmers league of Minnesota was launched today, the culmination of agitation against reciprocity. Speeches in which President Taft was "handed without gloves" and speeches in which the words "sold out" and "betrayed" occurred were made during the day's session. Whenever President Taft was assailed by a speaker the crowd howled with delight.

THREE AVIATORS KILLED

MULHAUSEN, Germany, Sept. 7.—Two more names were added today to the long roll of persons killed this year in aeroplane accidents.

Lieutenant Neumann, a German military aviator, started from this city this morning in the direction of Strassburg, carrying as a passenger M. Leconte, a French aviator.

The aeroplane hardly had gone 15 miles when the gasoline tank exploded. The report of the explosion was audible for a distance of several miles.

The machine dropped at Bilsheim, from an altitude of 60 feet and both aviators were instantly killed.

Their skulls were broken and they were frightfully injured about the body.

Lieutenant Neumann, who qualified as a pilot last spring, had been detailed to participate in the army maneuvers which are to be held next week in the Grand Duchy of Baden.

M. Leconte was an instructor at the aviation school at Mulhausen.

KARLSRUHE, Germany, Sept. 7.—Aviator Paul Seke fell with his aeroplane while making a flight here today and fractured his skull.

GAMBLE OUT FOR TAFT
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Sept. 7.—Robert J. Gamble, senior United States senator from South Dakota, in an interview here, predicts the re-nomination of President Taft. Senator Gamble said his state would support Taft for a re-nomination.

"Not in a generation," said Mr. Gamble, "have we had such able, constructive and progressive leadership as that given by President Taft. There is no doubt that my state will give the president hearty support. This estimate is based on the evidence gathered in traveling over a portion of South Dakota since my return from Washington and in the advice I have received."

"My own position is in accord with what I believe to be the sentiment of my constituency."

The alignment of Senator Gamble with the administration follows closely the declaration of Senator Crayford that he would support Senator La Follette.

LACK OF FUNDS STOP WORK ON TESTING PLANT
GOLDEN, Colo., Sept. 7.—Failure on the part of the state to pay educational appropriations means here failure to complete the ore testing plant, which has been eagerly looked for by the mining industries for two years. It was expected that this plant would have been completed by now, and it is badly needed.

Every new camp means more ore that should be properly tested, and the test-plant at the School of Mines was to have met this need. The failure of the state to meet this obligation in this line means a loss to the entire state as regards the mining industry.

DECORATIVE STREET LIGHTING

WE ARE not starting our system of decorative street lighting any too soon. Dozens of other small cities no more populous than Colorado Springs, and so unimportant that we might be tempted to sneer at them, installed such systems long ago. For instance, who ever heard of Winterset, Ia., or Wausau, Wis., or Mishawak, Ind., or Hoopes town, Ill.? Yet an electrical magazine credits them with the possession of up-to-date lighting systems, with ornamental iron poles and cluster lights. Meanwhile, Colorado Springs, which prides itself on its wealth and its metropolitan aspect, gets along with the old-fashioned arc lights suspended over the middle of each street intersection from unsightly wooden poles. If it were not that the modern system is to be installed here within a few weeks the subject would be too humiliating for public discussion.

But, thank heaven, when it is done it will be done as it should be. Commissioner Lawton, who has the reputation of doing his work thoroughly, not for campaign effect but as an every-day-in-the-year proposition, has considered this subject carefully as part of the program of street improvement which includes paving and sidewalk widening in the business section. The wooden poles, with their maze of wires, are to come down, and in their place we are to have iron poles of artistic design with clusters of incandescent lamps. There are to be no more arc lamps with their intense glare at the street corners and contrasting shadows in the middle of each block. The light will be evenly distributed along each street, and it will be directed down on the sidewalk and the pavement, instead of into the sky, as at present.

So much for the system of street illumination soon to be installed by the City. Supplementary to this is the decorative scheme of streamers and draperies purchased by the Chamber of Commerce and the City, with the aid of the Dry Farming (Congress and the County). Streamers of red, white and blue lamps are now being placed, five to the block, from Boulder Street to Cucharras on Tejon, and from Cascade Avenue to Nevada on Pikes Peak. These are identical with the streamers used during Carnival week, except that there are more of them. In addition four electric draperies are to be placed at the intersection of Pikes Peak Avenue and Tejon Street, the effect of which will be to make the business center of Colorado Springs a veritable blaze of lights.

Within three or four days this equipment will be installed and the lights will be turned on. A few weeks later by midwinter at the farthest the new system of lights supported by ornamental iron poles will be installed. Pessimists and doubters if any such remain in Colorado Springs are invited to let their minds dwell on the combined effect. Tejon Street and Pikes Peak Avenue will look like the principal business streets of a real city. They will have a metropolitan aspect hitherto unknown in Colorado Springs. People will frequent them at night in increasing numbers. And why? simply because they will be well lighted. Whoever asks himself the question whether he would rather walk through a street enshrouded in Cimmerian darkness or one lighted with the brilliancy of day can answer this question.

NEW MEXICO'S PROBABLE SENATOR

ACCORDING to political report, it is probable that William H. Andrews of Pennsylvania and New Mexico, better known as "Bull" Andrews and the "The Bull," is to be one of the first United States Senators elected from the new state of New Mexico. This sounds pretty rough on New Mexico, but if "The Bull" wins his fight it will be even rougher, and the Senate and the country at large will share the misfortune.

Andrews is one of the picturesque politicians of the old school. For many years he was right-hand man to Boss Quay in Pennsylvania, where he served in both branches of the legislature and did valuable work for his master. Twelve or fifteen years ago he became interested in politics in New Mexico, where he already had large investments, and though still living in Pennsylvania he sought election as territorial delegate to Congress. He succeeded in breaking in and has served five terms in that position. Now that New Mexico is to become a full-fledged state, Andrews is the "logical" candidate for Senator.

He has a good organization, but there is some doubt as to its ability to control the senatorial election, so with characteristic audacity "The Bull" publicly announces his conversion to the principle of popular election of United States senators. Of course, this is diametrically opposed to the sort of politics which Andrews has preached and practiced all his life, but such a small matter as the abandonment of fixed principles is of little or no consequence to him. The object in view is the important thing, and he believes that he has a better chance of attaining his present object by submitting his case to a vote of the people than by leaving it to a legislature.

POLITICAL CONDITIONS IN NEW STATE.

The fact that a politician of Andrews' caliber holds this attitude toward the popular election of senators can hardly be construed as an argument against that reform. Conditions in New Mexico are peculiar; it is a state in the making and not a finished product. Its territorial form of government has not tended toward the development and crystallization of a definite political sentiment of any kind. Heretofore the people have been actuated wholly by an ambition to secure admission to the Union. Everything else was of secondary importance, and any man or methods that could advance this aim was almost certain to be welcomed and used.

But New Mexico is growing rapidly and with the advantages conferred by statehood its advancement will proceed henceforth at an even faster rate. A new population, principally from the North and the East, is making its influence felt, and there is no reason to suppose that this element will be any more likely to go to the polls and vote approval of such a man as "Bull" Andrews than would be the case in other progressive states.

The one significant triumph scored by the method of electing senators by popular vote has been the choice of cleaner, sincerer, and more progressive men than are elected, as a rule, in the old way. New Mexico may have to take Andrews as its first Senator because under the territorial regime he has been able to make himself both popular and powerful. But unless its people are essentially different from those of other Western states where the innovation has been adopted, they will not keep him in power any longer than they have to.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

MISS SCHOLDER'S PLAYING.

To the Editor of The Gazette.
Much praise has been given Miss Harriet Scholder, the youthful piano virtuoso, for her recital last Friday at Perkins hall. Musical critics like Rubin Goldmark, Albert C. Pearson and your own correspondent, J. R. H. have eulogized upon every number the artist has played, and that she has thrilled the audience almost to a frenzy. One may also add that it was no common audience either. It was the sedate and stately society folks of Colorado Springs—the "Select" cream—De La Cream of Little Lannon. Small white-gloved hands have applauded this youthful artist with such vehemence that it created a scene. A La Bohemia! One could tell at a glance that with but few exceptions the audience was the same whose names were mentioned as the invited guests to Miraflores where a few weeks ago a private musicale was tendered in Miss Scholder's honor.

The fact leads me to the conclusion that had the "other half" of Colorado Springs known Miss Scholder as much as the former did, and had the admission been at a popular price, a great service would have been rendered to many music lovers of this city.

Thus I venture to suggest that Miss Harriet Scholder be requested to extend the courtesy to the poorer people and repeat the same program of those classical masterpieces at a popular price. The minor variations of Beethoven and the Nocturne by Chopin as played last Friday by this pupil of Leschetzky must inspire the masses to greater and nobler deeds than a dozen religious sermons could do, and society would not only be the beneficiary of such public recitals, but the gratitude from the masses to the artist will be a lasting one, and will serve as an encouragement to her in the endeavor to uplift the public taste to a higher level so that they can learn to appreciate the heavenly music of Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Chopin and Tchaikowski as interpreted by the angelic playing of Miss Harriet Scholder.

FROM OTHER PENS.

OREGON OPTIMISM
From the Portland Oregonian
Diversified farming will pay in Oregon this year. The onion crop is good and prices are promising; the hop crop is up to the average and prices soaring; forage crops are good and dairy products are on the rising scale; eggs already high in price, with Thanksgiving three months away, orchard products are abundant and the demand for them is promising and the old reliable wheat crop is with us as usual.

AEROPLANES AND WAR.
From the New York Herald
With characteristic frankness and readiness Admiral Togo puts himself squarely on record as to the war value of aeroplanes. He concedes their importance in some instances during naval operations, mainly as scouts, but he does not believe, and here the body of naval opinion is with him, that any air machine or airship as yet devised can destroy or be even a menace to battleships. This is of particular interest at a moment when our Atlantic fleet is to carry out some preliminary tests in this direction and when the public mind is being lulled by the prospect of a new era in naval warfare. It is evident, however, that they are based on the dangers of counter attack which aeroplanes must face from alert foes; on the impossibility of surprise attacks, owing to the clutter and clamor of their flight, on the uncertainty of aim due to the height they must seek to escape immediate destruction, and, finally, on the proved localization of damage which follows the detonation of high explosives.

A SHREWER INVESTING PUBLIC

From the New York World.
All of the 1,775 second-class postoffices have now been designated as savings banks, with the prospect that by September 28 the 426 first-class offices will be open for the receipt of savings and the system in general operation throughout the country. Its usefulness has been well demonstrated by the extent to which the government depositories for savings already open have been utilized by the public. The postal banks in New York, Chicago, Boston and St. Louis during their first three weeks of business received deposits amounting to $250,000, and it is expected that by September 1 the aggregate deposits in second-class offices will reach $2,000,000. The deposits made at the rural postal banks have been relatively small, and those received at the four first-class savings depositories above mentioned do not compare in volume with the daily receipts of ordinary savings banks. But representing, as they largely do, money previously withheld from deposit and confided now to the government's care in return for a smaller rate of interest, but with absolute security, they testify to a financial conservatism in an element of the public which it is satisfactory to note. They afford a gratifying contrast to the revelations of gullibility which have attended every exposure of a get-rich-quick swindle.

Sunflower Philosophy

I went into a hardware store to buy a quire of nails. The clerk I dealt with was a bore, who told me dreary tales. He wore a large elastic smile that split his face in two; his jaw was going all the while, and when his grunt was over, he would say, "Cut out these TALKSMITH verbal gales! Let all this talk be thinned! Lo, when a patron comes for nails, you hand him only wind!" I went into the drugstore's lair, to buy some pickled smoke, a languid salesman met me there, and said "Say, here's a joke!" And then he slammed me on the back and leaned against my bust, and quoted from some almanac a joke all red with rust. And then I smote him with a chair and knocked him through the floor, determined as I left that lair, to go there never more. Oh, when will buoyant salesmen learn to give their jaws a rest, and know that customers don't yearn for quip and ancient jest? Ah, how I love the quiet clerk, who sells me sealine, and keeps his mind upon his work, and sidesteps almanacs!

THE DAILY CRIT - RUTH GAMERIN

"It matters little where I was born
Whether my parents were rich or poor.
Whether they drank from the cold water's doorn
Or walked in the pride of wealth secure;
But whether I live an honest man,
And hold my integrity in my clutch
I tell you, brother, plain as I am,
It matters much!"
—From the Swedish in the Optimist's Good-morning.

Refinement is a most desirable quality.
No one can deny that.
But overrefinement is just as much a vice as the other is a virtue.

One who has ever met a person who is suffering and making other suffer from a case of superrefinement can possibly deny that.
A woman has just moved into our neighborhood who belongs to this class.

She is a scion of a splendid stock. She has been finely bred. She has been splendidly educated. But she has neither inherited nor acquired one inestimable thing a sense of values. She has but one criterion of worth. It is refinement. If she might assist in the final separation of the sheep from the goats I believe that the people who possessed refinement of taste and manner, no matter what their other qualifications or lack of them, would be courteously directed to Elysium while those who lacked refinement no matter what trifling recommendations, such as sterling character or spiritual worth they possessed, would be firmly steered off in the other direction.

This woman, since her coming into the neighborhood, has naturally met many new people. I have chanced to be with her a great deal and have been astonished and saddened by her treatment of some of them.

If she decides that a new acquaintance is sufficiently refined, her manner is exalted in its cordiality and evidence of breeding. She is every inch a beautiful gentlewoman.

But if she decides that a new acquaintance is somewhat lacking in refinement, she becomes so eager to draw a line of distinction between this creature and herself, that she loses all her own refinement. Politeness so cold that it is scarcely politeness at all, and even positive rudeness, characterize her manner.

And the worst of it is that many of the people who are thus treated are people of great mental and moral worth.

One is a woman with great brains and ability, who, besides managing her home to perfection, has so much helped her husband in his business, that though people of moderate civility they have been able to send their four children to college. She herself lacked an early education and has never been able to quite overcome some little roughness of speech. Consequently she is, anathema.

Another is a man whose innumerable charities are as beautiful, as they are unostentatious, and whose family life is one continual lesson in "the fine art of being good to live with." But he will wear colored shirts and ties that do not always harmonize and he hasn't mastered a few of the minor details of good manners, although in all that rests on unselfishness and true courtesy, he is most perfectly versed.

Another is—but why tell you more? You know them all—the simple, kindly, crude, efficient, splendid folk whom such a woman as she cannot possibly understand.

If the loss were not so decidedly hers who deserves it, one might feel much more sorry. As it is, we can only sigh and think, "Refinement is a desirable quality but overrefinement—well let's add it to our collection of vices to be preserved from."

Bits of Luck That the Hotel Clerk Experienced.

From the New York Sun
"No, I never had much luck finding things," said the hotel agent, "but one night last winter a lone man came to my window and bought a ticket for New Rochelle. As I was counting out his change he stooped to the floor and picking up a crumpled piece of paper glanced at it carelessly. Gathering up his change he passed the crumpled bit of paper to me, remarking, 'Guess it isn't anything' and went out to his train. Upon looking at the wad of paper, I saw it was a $5 Bank of England note. I held it for a month, and no one inquiring for it, I took it to a bank and got $24 for it."

"I never had any luck either," said the former hotel clerk, "but once, and that came just at a time when my wife had written me to get the baby a pair of shoes. I honestly, was so hard up that I didn't know where to turn for the coin. Well, that afternoon a man asked me to look back in the register, to a date some months past to find whether he had come to the hotel the last day of March or on the first day of April. To be accommodating I went down in the basement storeroom where the old registers were kept and pored over the junk there till I found the book I was seeking. Opening it to the date I saw something bright, an English half sovereign, nearly $2.50, so the baby got his shoes. I suppose some English tourist must have been counting his gold pieces above the register preparatory to having the cashier exchange them into United States money."

"I have always wondered," continued the former hotel clerk, "if it was the same tourist that lost another English gold piece that was picked up in the hotel. It was this way: an old schoolmate of mine got into the habit of occasionally coming to the hotel to make a touch for a dollar or even a half, if I had it. One day, just as I was about to go off duty I saw him enter the big door and seat himself in one of the large stuffed leather cushioned chairs. I nodded to him and motioned to the clerk, that he might see I'd be off duty in about ten minutes, and that he was to wait for me. At noon, sharp, I walked from behind the desk, only to find my friend had disappeared. It was a week later before I saw him again. He then explained that the day he had called and so suddenly vanished he had no sooner sat down in that big chair than his hand had encountered something round and hard. To his astonishment he saw it was a sovereign. My friend got his gold exchanged for $4.54 in good Yankee money and I was saved a touch, and I guess that's next door to finding things."

320-ACRE HOMESTEADS

Nearly 200,000,000 Acres Now Available for Entry Under the Enlarged Homestead Law

The enlarged homestead law permits entry by one person of 320 acres of government land in the arid states which is not in the understanding of the government, susceptible of irrigation. As under the original 160-acre homestead law, this land can be acquired by the settler from Uncle Sam free of cost, on compliance with the regulations requiring a residence and cultivation. The determination of what lands are subject to these double-sized homesteads devolves upon the secretary of the interior, and since the passage of the act in February, 1909, 100,244,665 acres have been designated by him as subject to entry in units of 320 acres. Every month additional lands are thus designated, 90,342 acres having been added to the total in June.

Born in 1864, M. Henri de Regnier, the symbolist poet and novelist, one of the new French academicians is among the youngest members of the academy. The youngest of all is still M. Rostand, who is four years M. de Regnier's junior and had the rare distinction of being elected on academical when he was only 34. The doyen of the academy is Napoleon III's old war minister, M. Emile Ollivier, who is 85 and still actively writing.

Several quack doctors were arrested for practicing medicine without license.

The cool weather was driving campers out of the mountains. The summer visitors were leaving for their homes.

A heavy frost did considerable damage in Manitou but was not noticed in Colorado Springs.

The toll road recently completed to Seven Lakes was being used by ever increasing numbers of picnickers and sightseers.

Sneak thieves were active in the city and the police seemed unable to apprehend them.

This was Labor day and the holiday was celebrated by a baseball game between teams from the Crowell and Jackson hose companies. The latter won by a score of 12 to 4.

A game of cricket was played by the two teams representing England and America composed of members of the Cheyenne Mountain Country club. The English team won by a score of 21 to 22. Besides the cricket match there were several horse races at the Country club.

Seven Notable Ruins

History has always attached much importance to the Number Seven. Of all numbers there is one which commanded, in a higher degree, the esteem and reverence of mankind. The Gazette has taken this charmed number, and has woven into stories on a variety of subjects a Series of Sevens, beginning each Monday and continuing during the week.

NO. 5 THEBES (EGYPT)

Nothing that could be said or written about the ruins of the Egyptian city of Thebes would prepare a visitor for their extraordinary grandeur.

"Not all proud Thebes' unrivaled walls contain,
The world's great empress on the Egyptian plain,
That spreads her conquest o'er a thousand states,
And pours her heroes through a hundred gates,
Two hundred horsemen and two hundred cases,
From each wide portal issuing to the wars."

Thebes was the most celebrated and magnificent of the ancient capitals of Egypt, the capital of the kingdom of the Pharaohs when in the zenith of their power, and whose ruins exceed in extent and grandeur all the most lively imagination can depict.

These ruins, consisting of temples, palaces, obelisks, colossal statues, sphinxes and sculptures of various kinds, continue from age to age to excite the awe and admiration of the spectator. To have seen the monuments of Thebes is to have seen the Egyptians as they lived and moved before the eyes of Moses. To have seen the tombs of Thebes is to have seen the whole religion of the Egyptians at the most solemn moment of their lives.

The most striking of the ruins of Thebes are those of the Karnak and Luxor, on the eastern bank of the river. The sanctuary of Ammon, a small granite edifice founded by Osiris, with the vestiges of the earliest temples around, is the center of the vast collection of palaces and temples which is called Karnak. Beside these temples a few miserable Arabs dwell, whose chief subsistence is derived from the visits of travelers, to whom they sell scraps of papyrus, mummy cases, coins and similar objects of antiquarian interest, many of them suspiciously modern in appearance.

The principal hall in the Palace of Karnak, which, there can be no doubt, is the Temple of Ammon, the Jupiter of the Egyptians, is 318 feet long by 160 broad, and its roof is supported by 134 columns of 70 feet in height and 11 feet in diameter. The approach to this stupendous structure is through an avenue of colossal sphinxes, which is upward of a mile in length and connects the remains of Karnak with those of Luxor.

In a room opposite them are representations of boats on the Nile, with views of the cabin, showing the richness of the furniture of the same. Next an armory, containing representatives of all the implements of war, weapons of offense and defense. On the east of this range of halls are the tombs of priests and private individuals. These are generally small; some of them, however, are much larger than any of the kings that of the priest Assef, who must have been of enormous wealth, is the largest of all the sepulchers at Thebes. After going down steps, making half a dozen turnings, then up stairs, then down a dozen more turns right and left, ascending and descending six times, you come to the sacred inclosure.

Beyond all others the ruins of Thebes give you the idea of a ruin yet imperishable city; so vast is the extent and so great is their interest.

What the Press Agents Say

"A ROMANCE OF THE SOUTH"

Romance seems to belong to the south, that beautiful country of sunshine, flowers, women, gallantry and aristocracy. In the play, "A Romance of the South" which the Lerch Stock company will present at the Opera house tonight and tomorrow matinee and night, the essence of the south is found. "A Romance of the South" seems to breathe of the splendors of that country.

he was so satisfied with the results, that he determined upon writing a drama for each state in the Union, a plan only partly carried out. Thos. realized that each state had its own peculiarities, which would furnish splendid atmosphere for the stage romances. While this is true of the individual states, it is more true of the various sections of the country. The south, in particular, offers the dramatist rare opportunities for settings for plays. The balmy weather, the beautiful country, the splendid men and women, their own peculiar modes of life and customs and the history of the people give the playwright much to work upon and add to the effects he may achieve with his story.

POPULAR MAJESTIC BILL OFF TONIGHT

Those who have not attended the Majestic this week should do so this afternoon or evening or they will miss one of the most entertaining offerings of the summer, in which comedy is the main element. The headliner, "Hogan in Society," with George Rolland in the title role, is one of the biggest laughs imaginable, and it holds the stage for more than 25 minutes, during which there is not a moment without its mirth-provoking dialogue or action. Sandberg and Lee also furnish lots of laughter in their melange of humor, "How to Make a Welsh Rabbit" and the Majesticope is a comedy feature with the new Rex film, "Castles in the Air"—a cook has been left a million dollars and the other comic, "A Day of Pleasure." The Premier Trio have an unusually popular musical act and Joie O'Mears does some clever dancing and other feats on the tight wire. The concert orchestra program comprises 100 minutes of high-class entertainment which can be seen for only 10, 20 or 30 cents. Performances at 2:30, 7:30 and 9:10

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine.

Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to INSIST upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle-wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it under oath. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, giving rise to nervous headache, backache, dragging-down pain or distress and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating nerve and cures nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of all diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

It's foolish and often dangerous to experiment with new or but slightly tested medicines sometimes urged upon the afflicted as "just as good" or better than "Favorite Prescription." The dishonest dealer sometimes insists that he knows what the proffered substitute is made of, but you don't and it is decidedly for your interest that you should know what you are taking into your stomach and system expecting it to act as a co-laborer. To him it's only a difference of profit. Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Send 31 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINES

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Sept. 7.—Sink- ing has been resumed in the main shaft of the Mary McKinley Mining com- pany. The shaft is now below the 700- foot point and the water, as proved by winze, has fallen 65 feet below the station. The production made from the mine in August totaled 17 cars or approximately 550 tons of ore. The bulk of the shipments were of milling grade, but one car of smelting grade ore returned values as high as $100 to the ton.

Lessees are prospecting the Gold hill holdings of the company and are making occasional shipments.

New Boston Leases Ships.
Dworak and associates, leasing on the New Boston, a Womack hill prop- erty owned by the Stratton estate, loaded out a car of ore yesterday, es- timated at two ounces of gold to the ton. The lessees have opened up a promising ore shoot.

Dante G. M. Co.
The production made from the main or Dante No. 1 shaft during August totaled eight cars of milling grade ore. Three sets of lessees are at work and the company is also engaged in de- velopment work.

Gold Bond Consolidated.
Two cars of ore, milling grade, have been loaded out this week from the property of the Gold Bond Consoli- dated Gold Mining Company, on the southwestern slope of Gold hill. Two sets of lessees, Anderson and company, and Brier and White, sent out the shipments.

Rose Nichol.
Logan and associates, leasing on the Rose Nichol, a Battle mountain prop- erty controlled by the Reed Invest- ment company of Colorado Springs, have brought back the mine to the shipping list. Two cars have been shipped, and the ore is reported a good average milling grade.

Jolly Tar.
Shipments have been resumed from the Jolly Tar mine in Victor. The property is under lease to Polly and associates, who are mining their ore from the extension of one of the Strong veins. The lessees shipped to- day, and the ore is estimated at 40 or better to the ton.

Iowa M. & L. Co.
The mill of the Iowa Mining and Milling company, located on Trail mountain, south of Victor, is to be remodeled and a new process, the "Barnard," is to be introduced. The company owns a large acreage near the Fremont-Teller county line, and large bodies of low grade are re- ported available for treatment.

NEWBOLD, TAYLOR AND GAUSS

NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—After almost a week of steady advances, in which the stock market has been the beneficiary of the heavy losses on the August decline, the market suddenly reversed its position to- day. Prices were unbroken downward until a large proportion of the recent gains had been eliminated. Some stocks, including Baltimore & Ohio and Missouri Pacific, fell to the lowest points of the year, such prominent issues as Atchafalaya, Canadian Pacific, Lehigh Valley, Northern Pacific, Reading and Union Pacific fell back 2 or more points. United States Steel lost 1 1/2, its heaviest decline for some time. This rapid selling of the market seemed to be mystifying to traders. The market opened irregular, with a preponderance of small losses. During the morning trading was unusually listless, and changes were small. In the afternoon the selling became more active, culminating in a vigorous attack on the list. Stocks of the Hawley roads moved against the market, Iowa Central, common and preferred, making especially good gains. The movement was due to an- nouncement of the expected leasing of the road to Minneapolis and St. Louis as a part of a plan for a new route from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. The marked weakness of the stock market was explained by the fact that the knowledge of the character of Mis- sissippi Pacific's forthcoming annual re- port. Several western roads announced the result of their July operations, and, in some cases, a slight decrease in earn- ings was disclosed. The combined net returns of 45 railroads in July showed a small increase, amounting to slightly over 2 per cent.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $2,028,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Sept. 7.—Short-crowd scares attracted nonprofessional speculative buying of wheat today and lifted the market, notwithstanding heavy selling of the part of owners. The close was 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ higher than last night. Corn showed a net loss of 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, oats finished un- changed to 1/4¢, and provisions 2 1/2¢ down to 7 1/2¢ up.

It was a day of much nervous ac- tion in the wheat pit, with the volume of business considerably greater than for a long time. Most of the sales were in the nature of profit taking in advance of the United States govern- ment crop report due at the close to- morrow. On the other hand, there was continued buying, orders from sources not usually active, notably purchasing features here by foreign- ers. Most of the incentive on the sell side of the market came from the failure of Russia to offer wheat for sale. In some respects the situation in Germany was represented as hard- ly less serious and there were rumors of a suspension of French import duties, but the French cabinet had agreed to remove duties on foodstuffs. De- cember fluctuated from 63 1/2¢ to 64 1/2¢ and closed firm but 1/4¢ net lower at 63 1/2¢. Number 2 yellow was quoted at 66 to 66 1/2¢. Cash grades were weak.

Selling by longs had a bearish in- fluence on oats, high and low points on the December option reached were 46 1/4¢ to 46 1/2¢ with the close just at last night's level, 46 1/4¢.

Smallness of hog receipts gave steadiness to provisions. At the last, pork was unchanged to 2 1/2¢ up, lard the same as last night to 7 1/2¢ higher and ribs 2 1/2¢ lower to 5c ad.

Hallegan, both of this city.LECTURE—Dr. Elizabeth Severn will give an informal lecture on "Practical Psychology, or the Power of the Mind," in the Antlers hotel drawing room, this evening at 8:30 o'clock. All interested are cordially invited.JAIL REPAIRED—To prevent possibilities of an escape while Commissioner Himebaugh is acting as head of the police department, the jail at the city hall is being repaired. A thorough test is being made of the steel bars.BROADMOOR TO CLOSE—The last dance of the season at Broadmoor was given at the casino last night, and the hotel will close this morning after breakfast. Manager W. O. Brinker says that this season has been one of the best in the history of the hotel.LOCAL POLICE AID—Colorado Springs officers aided in the handling of the big crowd that visited Rocky Ford yesterday, during the watermelon carnival. Captain Stark, and Detectives Pinnebeck and Gayin accompanied Special Agent O'Leary of the Santa Fe on the two special trains that left this city. During the day they helped to police Rocky Ford, on the lookout for rickshaws, returning last night.MARRIAGE—Miss Margaret White, of Pueblo, and Mr. J. B. Jones, of Platteville, Mo., were married at the summer home of the bride's mother, Mrs. L. T. White, 229 East Utah street, Wednesday evening. The Rev. Hastings McNamee, pastor of Hufman Memorial Methodist church of St. Joseph, officiated, and only immediate relatives were present. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home here at 229 East Utah street.News of Local Courts

Fred Sampson was found guilty of malicious mischief in the district court yesterday, and the damages to an automobile which he is said to have taken out and wrecked in a joy ride, placed at $100. Sentence has not been pronounced by the court.

John Roberts, colored, was fined $100 and sentenced to six months in jail by Judge Shearer yesterday. Roberts attacked S. H. Abernathy, also colored, with a knife several weeks ago and it was alleged, tried to cut the latter's throat. The negro said he was intoxicated and did not know what he was doing.

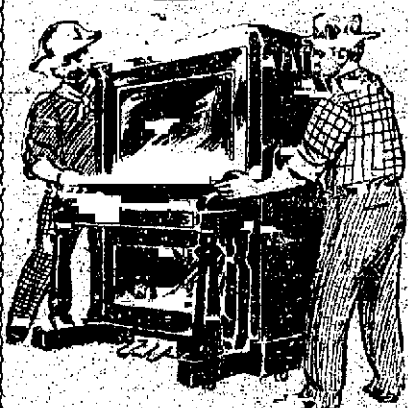

Charles M. Augden has filed an amended complaint in his suit in the district court against the Colorado Springs and Interurban Railway company. He asks $5,000 for alleged injuries and humiliation when he was put off a car.

George Keller, who pleaded guilty to larceny and to a statutory offense against his 16-year-old daughter, yesterday was sentenced to the reformatory by District Judge Shearer.

In the district court at Fort Collins, Judge Owen of this city has ruled that the district court does not have jurisdiction in the divorce suit of Harrington vs. Harrington, as the action had been appealed to the supreme court.

Thirty-six years elapsed before married life became unbearable to Mrs. Ellen Becker. She has filed suit for divorce against Gust D. Becker in the county court, charging extreme cruelty and nonsupport. A similar suit filed a year ago, was withdrawn. They live in West Colorado Springs.

The disturbance that E. C. Getts of Colorado City created in front of the home of William Sims, 132 South Congress street, night before last, will cost him $120 and costs, or he must serve a sentence of 60 days in the city jail. This was the order given after the trial was heard in police court yesterday morning. Getts was charged with being intoxicated, disturbing the peace and using vile language. Following the trial, Getts could not pay the fine and was ordered to serve 60 days in jail.

PHONE 913HIS THREAT TO A CONDUCTORFrom the Vasp.
Some time ago a man at Ypsilanti, Mich., became crazed on the subject of hypnotism, and was sent on a Michigan Central train to an asylum. When the conductor asked for tickets, the crazy man began telling him of his hypnotic powers."I'll hypnotize you," he said.
"Fire away," replied the conductor. The man made several passes before the man's face.

"Now you are hypnotized," he said. The conductor looked the part the best he could.

"You're a conductor," the hypnotist said.

"That's right," replied his victim.

"You're a good conductor," went on the hypnotist.

"Right again," said the conductor.

"You don't smoke, drink or swear at the passengers. In fact, you do not eat a cent."

"That's right," asserted the conductor.

The hypnotist eyed him for a moment, then said:

"What an awful fix you'd be in if I left you in this condition!"

Chinese rice paper has no rice in its composition. The curiously brittle, pure white material used for the marvelous drawings of Chinese artists is manufactured from the pith of a tree peculiar to Formosa. The first paper was not made of raw cotton, nor by the Chinese. Raw paper was made in Arabia more than 10 centuries ago, and the Crusaders brought the industry to Europe, where the first paper manufactory was established in the last years of the thirteenth century.
